Re: Recommendation from ICON Venue Group

Having worked directly with Malcolm Drilling on the Golden I Center project in downtown Sacramento, California, I would certainly recommend them for any complex, demanding and schedule-driven project.

From their involvement on the engineering and testing program side, to production installation in the field, they were responsive, professional and did what was necessary to succeed. The company met and exceeded the demands of a very challenging schedule on a very high profile and complex project.

Being one of the first subcontractors on site for construction of the Golden I Center, Malcolm Drilling set a high expectation for the subcontractors that followed them. They proved their ability to provide the necessary equipment, service and value to the project.

Sincerely,

Robert Synhorst
Director
